QEC – Renewal of Membership

We are pleased to invite you to renew your QEC membership.

Membership of QEC brings the key benefits of recognition, representation and reward. It offers you the chance to join with other members with common interest in advancing the quality of our electrical industry and most importantly be connected.

QEC has a key role in helping qualified electrical contractor towards achieving better quality and standards of electrical installation. QEC will keep members abreast of latest industry developments with a raft of initiatives including organizing courses, seminars and regular dialogue with government agencies. You will always be welcome to come along to all these lively and informative events.

We believe that QEC can make a difference to your business. This is an exciting time for everyone involved with QEC and we encourage you to be a part of it by renewing your membership now.
